

Local Interest Running High Here To Pick Red Feather Girl

Preliminary contests to select local candidates for the 1948 Red Feather girl, who must be both beautiful and civic minded, are being held in more than a dozen communities, colleges and institutions at this time, in preparation for the semi-final contests.

Even at the community level, the hunt for the ideal young woman between the ages of 18 and 28 years, who will typify the spirit of the current Red Feather campaign for the Community Fund, is already running neck and neck, so to speak among a group of typical Arlington beauties.

The entrants thus far listed include the following:
Joan Juffe, 35 Orvis Road
Dorothy A. Bergstrom, 52 Orient Avenue

Olive Ahern, 156 Park Ave. Ext.
Charlotte M. Williams, 179 Westminster Ave.
Sally Spofford, 69 Crescent Ave.
Brenda A. Meehan, 96 Coolidge road.

Betty J. Hill, 56 Fountain road
Betty Gerdart, 168 Park Ave.

LOCAL MAN NAMED SECRETARY OF SMALL BUSINESS BOARD

On Wednesday, October 6th, there was a joint meeting of the Governor's Council and the Advisory Board of the new Mass. Small Business Division, at a dinner at the Parker House.

In a speech to the meeting, the Governor said that the Bay State's Small Business Division is one of the most important segments of the State's Economy. He said that the Small Business Division, is now working with the Armed Forces, listing the industrial equipment of Massachusetts, and furnishing manufacturers with information concerning Government contracts.

Governor Bradford stated, that the Small Business Division was "fathered" by Alfred C. Gaunt, of Methuen, Councilor for Essex County.

At this first meeting of the Small Business Advisory Board, Mr. Roy Cooke, of Athol, was elected Chairman of Arlington, was designed Secretary.

An Infant Cries In The Night

An infant cries in the night. A new life is born, a son of man and God.

What mother will turn him out with no one to care for him? Not the loving, generous, unselfish mother. Not another Mrs. Sullivan, who gave her five strong sons to the Navy to protect our lives in the past war. Not another Mrs. Dionne who bore the quintuplets.

These women and millions like them, imbued with real courage and complete devotion to their husbands and families, are happy, despite hardship, because they follow the natural law.

They live up to the Ten Commandments, a code given by God to Moses on Mount Sinai. This decalogue, respected first by the Hebrews to whom it was entrusted and later on by Christians down through the ages, inspires in humanity a certain reverence for God, neighbor and self.

History tells us what happened to those nations that flaunted the Mosaic code and practiced birth control. Decadent Rome in the pagan days fell before conquerors. In our own time, there was France, far outnumbered by her enemy. Theodore Roosevelt rightly termed birth control as race suicide.

In fact, any society that allows the sex instinct free play is inoculating itself with a virus of corruption which sooner or later will destroy it. It is only a matter of time.

No one has defined this perversion in stronger or clearer language than George Bernard Shaw, when he said, 'Contraception is reciprocal masturbation.'

But today in our own civilized Massachusetts there are some abnormally selfish women who HEAR but do not HEED infants crying in the night. Their cold, hard hearts spurn helpless babes. They refuse them now for various reasons; they may never have the chance again.

One excuse is a mother's health and the danger of her dying. Your own family doctor will tell you that it is rare indeed to lose a mother in childbirth today with all the advances made in medicine over the years.

Specialists in obstetrics gave expert medical testimony at the recent hearing on what is now Referendum Four in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House to support the family doctor. In 1947 at the Boston City Hospital one of the largest in the Commonwealth, 2,510 women were delivered of babies with only one death of a mother. Both branches of the Legislature defeated the amendment to section 20 and 21 of Chapter 272 of the Massachusetts General Laws.

Therefore, those who indulge in this vicious perversion of nature, this abnormal practice known as birth control, are according to the Bible, guilty of the crime of Onan. And God's punishment to Onan was death: "And therefore the Lord slew him, because he did a detestable thing."

Right is right and wrong is wrong. There is no in-between.

Since the issue is so grave and serious, all decent, law-abiding citizens should vote "NO" on the birth control referendum, number four, in the coming election on November 2. Don't be misled or swayed by facts that have been distorted as a means to a horrible end.

Just think of this as you mark an X beside "NO" on Referendum number four on your ballot. "Where would I be today if my mother had not HEARD and HEEDED her infant crying in the night?"

IN THE SERVICE... OF OUR COUNTRY

You remembered them THEN... -how about TODAY?

Honor Rolls paying homage to our service men were a prominent part of our wartime architecture. Almost every village square and big city block and factory displayed one: Gratitude-overflowing. Today, among the victors who returned, many are disabled. Honor rolls for them are outdated—but, improved medical care... new veterans hospitals... adequate disability compensation... the right type of job... these are their IMMEDIATE NEEDS. In these ways, recommended by the DAV—the official voice of America's wartime disabled—you can honor them today.

Action Promised Soon By MTA For Better Service At Heights

Edward Dana, general manager of the MTA, in a recent letter received by the Arlington board of selectmen, has promised that a solution to faster MTA transportation service between Arlington Centre and Arlington Heights is to come in the immediate future.

The Elevated and MTA service problem has been one of long standing in Arlington, and has been the subject of heated discussion over a period of some years. date of September 28th, however, Mr. Dana's communication under date of September 28th, however, is a definite promise that action, urged by the Arlington board, will be taken shortly by the MTA. Much correspondence has been carried on between the selectmen and the MTA since March 4th of this year. On this latter date, the selectmen addressed a communication to Mr. Dana which they called attention to the type of service rendered commuters beyond Arlington center, contending that the condition is much aggravated now by the long run between Arlington Heights and Watertown, which brings frequent and presumably unavoidable delays in operation.

No reply being forthcoming in answer to their letter, the board sent a copy of its first letter to the personal attention of Mr. Edward Dana, adding that "In the absence of a reply, we would appreciate prompt consideration of this matter, which is of vital importance to a large number of our residents." Belated Birthday Greetings To "Pin-Up Boy" Bolinsky

We've all heard of pin-up girls, But here is Arlington's favorite (and we think ONLY) "Pin Up Boy."

He's one of the most interesting chaps we've met for many moons, tis John Bolinsky, who holds forth at the Arlington Recreation Bowling Alleys, where he acts as general factotum and all-around master of ceremonies.

John Bolinsky

Everyone knows and likes John. In his thirty-one years of presiding over pins, balls and alleys, he has met thousands of bowling fans. He is serving his clients unto the third and fourth generations, and has seen them come and go by the hundreds. Off to the wars, Spanish American, World War I, and World War II, they went, his young friends, one by one and in groups, some never to return. He remembers them all, and can call to mind and name thousands of old-timers and new-time friends.

John has seen a lot of living. Born in Russia, sixty-five years ago, he entered the Russian army in 1904, serving his country as a Russian Cossack in his hey-days. He steamed into New York Harbor, (Continued On Page Four)

D. A. V. To Hold Forget-Me-Not Drive Saturday, October 16

Commander Lee Morris of Arlington Chapter No. 49 Disabled American Veterans, announces the annual Forget-me not drive will be held on Saturday, October 16, 1948, with John T. Kerr as chairman.

Commander Morris also stated that he would like to acquaint the people of Arlington with the services that are performed by this organization with the funds obtained from this drive: 1. DAV Chapters and Service officers assist the widows of deceased veterans and the dependent children of those who died in war service or as the result of war wounds. 2. Assists disabled veterans in securing hospitalization and outpatient treatment. 3. Advises the veteran as to his rights and opportunities for vocational training and education. 4. The DAV, through its nationwide employment program, has paved the way for widespread employment of disabled veterans. 5. The DVA chapters also aids hos-

In line with this direct assurance received from Mr. Dana in reply, that the matter would receive Board of Selection was recently ad-prompt and adequate attention, the vised that the State Department of Public Utilities will hold a public hearing in Room 116, State House, on Monday morning, October 25, at ten o'clock, on the petition of the MTA for a license to extend its service in the Arlington Heights District.

In the petition the MTA asks permission to operate buses over the following routes: Between the junction of Park and Wachusett avenues, and the junction of Appleton street and the Concord Turnpike, via Wachusett, Florence and Claremont avenues and Appleton street.

A group of citizens under Edward Wilson, of Golden avenue, in the Arlington Ridge section, have been active in seeking this extension of service, and a petition is now being circulated to have as large a representative as possible present at the hearing on October 25.

New Look For Arlington Centre

Due to rain water and winter slush running toward the center of the road instead of to the gutters, Mass. Ave., in the Pleasant Street vicinity, is being resurfaced. J. J. Cronin, of Lawrence, one of New England's largest road building contractors, is in charge of the project.

Local Girl Weds Medford Man

Wearing a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a scalloped peplum, Miss Mildred Mary Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Kelley of Mystic Street, became the bride of Mr. Charles Arthur Burns of Medford at an afternoon ceremony at St. Agnes Church. Given in marriage by her father, the attractive Miss Kelley carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Nora Frances Kelley wore a cerulean blue taffeta gown with matching headress. In contrast the bridesmaids, Miss Phyllis Burns of Medford, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Winifred Ryan of Somerville, wore gowns and hats of fuchsia taffeta. All the attendants carried old fashioned bouquets.

Mr. Robert A. Hassett of Medford served as best man for Mr. Burns, while Mr. John M. Kelley of Arlington and Mr. Edward Harrison of Medford were ushers.

Assisting her daughter and son-in-law in the receiving line of the guests at the reception in American Legion Hall, Mrs. Kelley accented her gown of grey crepe with royal blue accessories. Pink tea roses formed her corsage. In beige crepe, Mrs. Burns, mother of the bridegroom, chose a corsage of yellow tea roses.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School and was an employee of the United Drug Co. Mr. Burns is an alumnus of Medford High School. On return from a Canadian wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Burns will live in Arlington.

Adventure Series Planned By First Universalist Church

The third annual series of evenings of Adventure and Music, under the auspices of the First Universalist church, will open with the November 17th meeting, when Henry Gerald, brilliant Scandinavian psychologist will entertain. Other attractions will include Cornelia Otis Skinner in character sketches, and a concert under the direction of P. Paul Winters.

Tickets for the series are available at the Treasure Chest and Belden and Snow's in Arlington Centre

Richard Brown Is Honored

Richard M. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Menzies Brown, of 45 Cleveland street, is one of twenty young Massachusetts men to be honored by the Atomic Energy Commission with a research fellowship in the physical, biological and agricultural sciences.

This program, administered for the Atomic Energy Commission by the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences, is carried on under the provisions of the Atomic Energy act of 1946, and is designed to insure expansion of research in atomic energy and related fields, and to alleviate the shortage of trained scientists and technicians.

Brown, a graduate of the local high school and of Harvard University, resides at 11B Shaler Lane, Cambridge, with his wife and son. He holds an M. A. degree under Professor E. M. Purcell, at Harvard.

Blackout Caused In E. Arlington Homes

The failure of an electric switch threw more than four hundred West Somerville and East Arlington homes into darkness for more than an hour last Friday night.

Candles, kerosene lanterns and other outmoded forms of lighting equipment were brought for from attics and cellars into emergency use.

The Edison Company officials explained that an oil switch, atop a pole at Broadway and Alewife Brook Parkway, had failed, causing the blackout. The switch failure threw showers of sparks and a fire alarm was sounded, bringing several pieces of apparatus to the scene. No fire damage was caused, however.

Many families had to resort to candles by which to eat their evening meal. At the Hillcrest Nursing Home, at 1323 Broadway, Somerville, where 38 patients are housed candles were used throughout the building. Old kerosene lamps from attics and closets also were pressed into service.

Clothing shops and grocery stores did a big office business selling candles to unfortunate residents who did not have an emergency

Services For J. Robert Bentley

Funeral services for J. Robert Bentley, 58, prominent banker, who died Sunday of a heart attack at his home, 64 Churchill avenue Arlington, was held at 2 p. m. in the Hartwell Chapel 729 Mass. Ave., Arlington, with the Rev. Alfred S. Cole, professor at Tufts College, officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, Brighton.

He leaves his widow, a son, Robert L. Bentley of Willow Grove, Pa. a daughter, Miss Dorothy A. Bentley a student nurse at Chelsea Memorial Hospital, and a brother, Charles B. Bentley of Belmont.

Funeral Monday For L. A. Nowlin

Many Arlington friends attended the funeral services held on Monday, for Leon A. Nowlin, 53, formerly for twenty years a resident of this town, from the John O'Donnell Funeral Home, 1021 Massachusetts Avenue. He was storekeeper in East Boston for the Water and Sewer Divisions of the Metropolitan District Commission, where he had been employed for thirty-two years.

A native of Los Angeles, Cal., and for the past three months a resident of Dorchester, Mr. Nowlin passed away suddenly on Friday last. In addition to his wife, he leaves five daughters: Mrs. Evelyn Corbett, of Arlington Heights, Mrs. Phyllis MacDonald, of Waltham, Mrs. Eleanor Peterson, of Quincy, Mrs. Irene Guest, of Dorchester, and Mrs. Louise Myers, of Roxbury also two brothers, Raymond Nowlin of Downsville, N. Y., and Dudley Nowlin, a resident of California, and a sister, Mrs. Doris Suttie, of Bronx, N. Y.

There are six grandchildren surviving.

Services For Former Resident

Funeral services for Walter L. McNeill, a former resident of this town, but more recently of Hartford, Conn., an insurance broker, were held Monday afternoon, at the Wilson Chapel, in Somerville. Before moving in 1942 to Hartford, where he established an insurance agency, he was in the insurance business in Boston. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Navy.

Mr. McNeill, a native of Somerville, formerly lived in Arlington for a period of twelve years, and is wellknown to Arlington residents. He was a member of John Abbot Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Somerville. In addition to his wife, 14 Milton, two daughters, Mrs. George Stenson, of Battle Creek, Mich., and Miss Janet K. McNeill, who resides at home: also a sister, Mrs. William C. Mitchel, of West Medford.

Brackett PTA To Hold Dance

Plans are nearing completion for the "Get Acquainted" Halloween Dance on October 26th, by the Brackett School Parents Teachers' Association, to be held at the Brackett school auditorium.

Music for the affair, which will feature both modern and square dancing, will be furnished by Harold Donehey and his orchestra. The popular dance director, Russell Curry and his staff, will also entertain. On the committee, under the direction of Mrs. Alexander Mark, are Mrs. Herbert Cronin, Mrs. Arthur Fitzgerald and Mrs. Howard Flanagan.

Planned Parenthood Committee To Give Data On Legislation

To the Editor:

In view of the continued misunderstanding by some people of the issue involved in Referendum question No. 4, to appear on the ballot on November 2. The Planned Parenthood Committee would like to stress that the only question is whether doctors shall be permitted (not required) to prescribe contraceptive care to married women only for the protection of life and health.

At the present time married women in Massachusetts are denied the privilege of receiving competent medical advice which will safeguard their health, although married women in forty-six other states may receive it.

Since the proposed legislation is purely permissive it will in no way affect the religious principles of any individual or group, consequently it has the endorsement of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, in addition to the support of a majority of the members of the Massachusetts Medical Society, also the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and many other civic groups.

It is sincerely hoped that anyone who has any questions concerning this legislation will get in touch with the committee who will be glad to furnish any information desired.

The Arlington Planned Parenthood Committee:

Mrs. Leonard R. Bradford
Chairman
Mrs. Gordon P. Thompson
Mrs. Glenn E. Owens
Mrs. Dorris H. Hoyt

Hold Book Review Tea

Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock Mrs. Robertine Howe Rice spoke at the Universalist Church parish hall, taking as her subject a number of the latest books of the season.

Among the books she reviewed were the following: Family Circle, by Cornelia Otis Skinner: Toward the Morning, by Herve Allen: The Burnished Blade, by Lawrence Schoonover: The Running of the Tide, by Esther Forbes: The Plague and I, by Betty MacDonald: The Precipice, by Hugh MacLennan: Tomorrow will be Better, by Betty Smith: and Three to Make Ready, by Catherine Turlington. Following the reading, the Evening Group of the Association of Universalist Women served tea, and an offering was received for the benefit of the church.

Arlington and other Boston suburbs will join the ranks of other large communities in the country this fall when a Catholic Theatre will be inaugurated at New England Mutual Hall with the Passion Players Guild of Woburn, well known producers of Catholic drama operating the project.

The new dramatic venture has been enthusiastically endorsed by His Excellency Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, and will be recognized as the official theatre organ of the archdiocese, under the title of the Boston Catholic Theatre. Rev. Ralph Gallagher of the Cathedral, Boston, has been appointed by the Archbishop as his personal representative to the organization.

The founding of the new theatrical movement will come as welcome news to the many theatre-goers among the Catholic populace of greater Boston. A definite schedule of the seasons program of plays has not yet been announced, but the directors of the group have definitely established a policy of presenting only plays which contain a Catholic theme. For its grand opening on Nov. 9, the B. C. T. will offer "opening-nighters the highly regarded dramatic biography of Francis Thompson, 'The Hound of Heaven'. Based on the life of the great Catholic English poet and written by Edward P. O'Donnell, Director of the Boston Catholic Theatre, this play was given its world premiere in Boston last year and scored a tremendous success.

Those who will follow the Boston Catholic Theatre during its initial season will be privileged to witness some of the finest talent in the archdiocese. Several local organized theatrical groups will be engaged in fulfilling the ambitious schedule of performances with each being featured in a particular production. Besides the Passion Players Guild of Woburn, the selection will include the Lambs of St. Agnes' Parish, Reading, the Dramatic Society of Holy Cross College, the Friars of So. Braintree, the Malford Club of Malden and the Little Theatre of Jamaica Plain.

Individual talent in the Archdiocese is being encouraged to participate and already a large number of enthusiastic hopefuls have joined the membership of the organization. There are still many opportunities for others who might be interested in the success of the Boston Catholic Theatre. Further information may be had by contacting the Boston Catholic Theatre at 4 High Street, Woburn, Mass. Meetings of the group are held at St. Cecilia's Hall (second floor) on Belvidere Street, Boston. Boston Catholic Theatre in offering patrons season and subscription tickets at reduced rates. The season ticket entitles the holder to a reserved seat at a performance of each play and the subscription ticket will provide a reserved seat to a choice of five plays.

Arlington Leadership Training School

The Arlington Leadership Training School re-opens Monday, October 11, at 8 p. m., in St. John's Church on Pleasant Street. For the third consecutive year the Protestant Churches of Arlington sponsor this project for all the interested laymen of the community. They take pride in presenting, this year, an especially interesting curriculum and a splendid staff of usually well qualified teachers: "A Brief Survey of the Old Testament," by Rabbi Herman Harry Rubenovitz: "The Life and Work of Paul," by The Reverend Ronald Woodrow Over: "A Panorama of the Christian Church," by the Reverend Halsey Irwin Andrews; and "How to Teach in the Church School," by The Reverend Milton Frederick

Saugus Town Manager To Speak Here Tonight

The open meeting to be held this evening (Thursday Oct. 14) at the Robbins Town Hall, under the auspices of the town committee studying possible changes in the form of Arlington's town government, bids fair to be of great interest to the public in general, many residents having signified their intention of being present.

At this meeting the townspeople will have an opportunity to ask any questions relative to the report which filed by the committee at the last town meeting, with possible changes in the recommendations suggested by the committee, and they will also be invited to ask questions on any other phase of town government which they may wish to do.

The highlight of the evening will be the address to be given by James H. Shurtleff, town manager of the Town of Saugus, and a recognized authority on town government. Mr. Shurtleff is an expert in his line, and has been in the field of public administration work for the past fourteen years, and has held the position of town manager in Mansfield, and also in Brookfield, Illinois, previous to coming to Saugus last February.

All civic minded citizens are urgently requested to attend this meeting.

"Like Father-Like Son" Major Thompson Enlists Son In Regular Army

The many Arlington friends of Major Edwin A. Thompson will be interested to hear that he has as of October 8th, enlisted his son, George I. Thompson, in the regular army, in a simple ceremony held at his office of the Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island Recruiting District headquarters.

George, who lives on the military post at East Point, Nahant, and is now 19, attended Melrose High and Huntington Preparatory Schools. While at Melrose High, he was a member of the cross country team, played football and was active in the Mask and Wig Society. His hobbies have always been centered around mechanical things such as radio, electricity, and motors, although he has learned to handle firearms and has done some target shooting.

Knowing that he would eventually be called under the selective service act, he decided to volunteer

In his discussions with father, he decided to forego college for the time being and enlist for three years. He felt that this interim period would give him a chance to determine what he wanted to do most and at the same time give him valuable training in several other fields. When asked why he was taking this step, his comment was, "I wanted to volunteer as my father did in 1916, but at the same time I think that these three years will give me a chance to find out what the score is. Also the fact that I may go to a service technical training school will probably decide my future career. Who knows, I may decide to stay in the Army."

Major Thompson's only comment was, "I'm glad that George has decided to volunteer now. Knowing how critical things are, I'm happy that he's going to get his training while there's plenty of time for it. We can't stress preparedness too much; but it's all up to him."

Arlington Women May Do Red Cross Work At Home

Production lines are forming in the living rooms of Greater Boston homes, at meeting places in your community and at 17 Gloucester Street, Boston.

In answer to the appeal of hospitals for thousands of additional surgical dressings, hospital sewing and knitted articles, the Boston Red Cross has announced that Arlington residents may do the needed work in their own homes, at local production headquarters and at the Boston Red Cross Chapter House.

in 1913, aboard a freighter, and landed here in Arlington, in 1916, when he went to work at the bowing alleys. For the past thirteen years, he has been all-round man for Mr. Louis Rubbico, popular owner and operator of the Arlington alleys. For more than 20 years John has lived in Cambridge with the same Polish family of friends. All know him as a man of great good nature and fine habits. In addition, he neither smokes or drinks. What a man!

John celebrated his birthday on September 30, and was delighted with the remembrances and cards received from his friends. He says he will never forget that day.

He has known tragedy, too. One of a large family, he still mourns the loss of several members of his family in the old country. A younger brother and older sister in Poland have been missing for more than six years. Valiant and continued efforts of the Red Cross have failed to reveal any trace of them. Doubtless the tragedy of war overtook them somewhere in the war-torn countries. Happiness reigned in John's heart recently when, through the efforts of the International Red Cross, another missing sister was located, and found married and living happily on her little Polish farm. Letters now come from that far-away farm to gladden John's heart.

"No, I never married," says John. "I'm happy the way I am," and his joyous, smiling countenance bears out his statement. We as to the business at the alleys in the square.

Yes, John, your friends and acquaintances who frequent the bowling alleys, and others who meet you day by day around town, unite in wishing you (although a bit late) many happy returns of your birthday and a long and happy future among us.

Republican "21" Club Meets

The first meeting of the fall season of the Arlington Republican "21" Club was held recently at the home of Jo Anne Lord, Secretary with Jerry Lovering President. Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee was the guest speaker and gave a very interesting talk on Governor Bradford and his administration.

Among the guests that evening was Whitman Bears, President of the Republican "21" Club at Denison University, Ohio, who spoke about his club and its activities.

Parents Asked To Assist In School Census Taking

The school census cards are being sent this week to the homes of parents of Arlington children.

The school census is a legal requirement each year. It is timely, therefore, to recall that the census does serve certain purposes:

A. Every year a number of children are brought into school by this means:

B. In addition, we locate others who cannot attend school on account of some physical disability and thus we are able to furnish home instruction for these handicapped children:

C. Lists of pre-school children are helpful in preventive health work and are required for the State Census Report:

D. State requires report whether child attends public or private school:

E. The School Office relies upon the complete list of pupils compiled, not only for constant use throughout the year, but also as a basis for the yearly report to the Department—required by law.

Parents have been very co-operative in the past but extra care will need to be taken this year because of the great amount of moving, necessitated by the housing situation and by frequent changes of address by army and navy personnel.

From: General Laws Relating to Education, Chapter 72, Section 2.

Registration of Minors:—The school committee of each town shall ascertain and record the names, ages and such other information as may be required by the department of education, of all minors residing therein between six and sixteen, and of all minors over sixteen who do not meet the requirements for the completion of the sixth grade of the public schools of the town where they reside. Whoever, in contr. of any such minor, withholds information sought by a school committee or its agents under this section, or makes a false statement relativet hereto, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars. Attendance supervisors, under the direction of the committee and superintendent of schools, shall have charge of the records required by this section, shall be responsible for their completeness and accuracy, and shall receive the co-operation of principals, teachers and supervisory officers in the discharge of their duties hereunder. A card, as proscribed by the department, shall be kept for every child whose name is recorded hereunder. Attendance supervisors shall compare the names of children enrolled in the public and private schools with the names of school age are not enrolled in, and attending school, as required by section one of chapter seventy six.

SCOUT EXECUTIVES HOLD CONFERENCE

Last Friday and Saturday, at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, the Annual New England Conference and election of officers for the coming year was well attended by Arlington personnel. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schreiber; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williams; Mrs. Everett Adams; Mrs. Warren Morang; Henry E. Keenan; Horace Homer. any new plans for greater expansion of scouting activities were outlined and discussed.
